Teach Your Children Well - Parenting for Authentic Success

Please join us for a conversation with acclaimed psychologist, New York Times best-selling author (The Price of Privilege, Teach Your Children Well), child development and parenting expert Madeline Levine, as she presents findings from both current research and her 30 years of clinical experience to shatter once and for all the myth that good grades, high test scores, and college acceptances should define the parenting endgame. Instead of contributing to a system that has led to exhausted, externally driven and emotionally ill-equipped children, participants will be shown how to shift the focus to a parenting style that concentrates on both enabling academic success and developing a sense of purpose, well-being, and connection in our children's lives. Co-sponsored by Oakwood School.

David Sheff

DAVID SHEFF & NIC SHEFF ■ JANUARY 12, 2016 ■ 7pm ■ LOWER GYM

Why children use drugs and how to prevent problems from beginning

Health advocates, award-winning authors of Beautiful Boy, Clean and Tweak: Growing Up on Methamphetamines, father and son David and Nic Sheff weave the harrowing tale of Nic's addiction and recovery while growing up outside of San Francisco. "Before Nic became addicted to meth, he was a charming boy, joyous and funny, a varsity athlete and honor student adored by his two younger siblings. After meth, he was a trembling wraith who lied, stole and lived on the streets." Both men will join us to share their story and give clear, cogent counsel for parents and others who want to prevent drug problems from beginning. You will leave with a clearer understanding of the greatest public health challenge of our time.
