

Elementary Theater Program 2024-2025

Story Theater for Kindergarten

This class offers a safe and fun environment, where students learn to use their voices, bodies and imaginations to create a variety of characters, settings and stories. They can explore how a zombie-scientist might move or how a cat-queen might talk. We might create our own version of “Jack/Jackie and the Beanstalk” where the giant is simply misunderstood and the cow is in cahoots with the bean seller all along. Join us as we foster creativity through theater and stories!

Elementary Theater Program 2024-2025

Story Improvisation for 1st Grade

Each week, students will hear an existing story or will create an original story and then proceed to improvise accordingly. Students will also play theater and beginning improvisation games, teaching them how to tap into and express their creativity to develop varieties of characters, settings, and story ideas. In a fun and safe environment, students will also continue to learn to use the full range of their vocal and physical expression.

Maximum class size: 18 students

Elementary Theater Program 2024-2025

Improvisation for 2nd Grade

Through mostly comedic improvisations and improvisation games, students will take initiative and instantaneously create colorful characters, settings and dialogue. They will also practice the “give and take” of stage work, learning that an actor must listen and work with the other actors on stage, while at the same time, developing their own stage presence. The goal of the class is to encourage each child to have fun discovering their own inherent talent, expression, and sense of humor.

Improvisation for 3rd Grade

Through a wide variety of improvisation games and exercises, students will learn how to create long-form scenes and stories, and will be encouraged to not only instantaneously create characters and settings, but to boldly and whole-heartedly commit to their choices. As with all improvisation classes, students will continue to learn the balance of the “give and take” of stage work, and continue to explore their creative expression, boundless talents, and sense of humor.
